Charlie II

Amazing animation by TRIXTER provides exceptional entertainment for the entire family!

The 11-year-old orphan Felix misses his brother Charlie (30), who had left him with his foster parents, the Blixts, six years ago. Felix has been secretly constructing a “car” from a wrecked engine. When he connects his laptop, the car - with the help of a mouse that runs across the keyboard - establishes contact with the Internet, and then it has a mind of its own! From this moment on the car, which Felix calls Charlie II, has an insatiable appetite for new information - and that’s not all. Charlie II is determined to see the world, and to do so he needs wheels. If Felix helps him get hold of some, Charlie II promises to help the boy find his brother. The “magical” software that Felix has accidentally downloaded from the Internet was developed by Anna Dixon, who is working on an artificial intelligence project sponsored by her uncle. When Anna discovers who stole her software she is soon hot on the heels of Felix... or rather, hot on the wheels of Charlie II. What Anna doesn’t realize is that her uncle wants to use her work to develop a fighting robot, so it is hardly surprising that he now tries everything in his power to get rid of Charlie II... once and for all! Once Anna sees what her uncle is up to she changes sides and comes to Felix’s aid.

Together they track down the boy’s brother, Charlie... who seems to be an absolute loser. But is he really? Anyway, Anna can’t stand Charlie. But there’s no time for arguments now; soon the three of them are being pursued not only by Anna’s uncle and his henchmen but also by two dubious gamblers who claim Charlie owes them money. Luckily, it soon emerges that Charlie II not only has a heart of gold but can also access any program that a fighting robot might have...
