Dream Hotel: South Africa

Dream Hotel: South Africa

Welcome to South Africa, the multicultural and exotic Rainbow Nation that boasts abundant wildlife and fascinating landscapes. As the new general manager of his aunt Dorothea's hotel group, Markus Winter travels to the luxurious "Palace of the Lost City" resort in South Africa. He is incredibly excited about seeing his daughter Leonie again, but is surprised to find that she is heavily involved in a fairly radical organization that supports and participates in environmental activism. Markus is far from pleased with her new direction...

Among the holiday guests there are also some emotional issues to deal with. Markus tends to his old friend Frank, who needs to be a little distracted from the death of his wife. For his children Mia, Theo and Lola, the stay at the dream hotel is the perfect opportunity to look for a new mom. The three of them quickly decide that Nanny Rosa would be the perfect match, but Rosa is keeping something to herself that nobody yet knows - she is a young novice who will be soon taking her vow to enter the sisterhood. Then there's Sandra, who is faced with the most important decision of her life. Having fallen madly in love with her dream guy Thorsten, she must first get a divorce from her husband Robert before they can get married. The problem is, she meets Robert again in South Africa and Sandra is hardly able to recognize the man whose onetime workaholic tendencies troubled her so...
