For Love or Money

After crashing a borrowed Ferrari into a wall, young store owner Thomas is faced with one heck of a problem: he wasn't insured and now he's got to come up with a bunch of cash to pay the damage.

When the friendly photographer Lisa accidentally hits him with her convertible and he receives some minor injuries, Thomas' chaotic brother Andi comes up with a mad scheme: fake a severe injury and sue for compensation!

But it turns out that forging the medical papers to make his brother "impotent" might not have been the smartest idea. Especially now that the insurance company has sent out a gorgeous masseuse, who uses all of her erotic charms to expose Thomas of fraud.

Then, when Thomas falls in love with Lisa, the very last person who may discover his scam, things really start to get crazy...
