

Romantic Comedy

French Kissing

French Kissing

It's really not every day that Florian, Matthias and Enrique are this cheerful on their way to school. But today marks the arrival of the exchange students; they'll have an entire busload of hot French girls as classmates! They're looking forward to three weeks of parties, fun and sex, but their eager anticipation is abruptly crushed when they find they've got stiff competition - their arch rival Henk and his cronies. Against better judgement they agree to a wager: the group that manages to bed more French girls wins... with their mini-van up against Henk's jeep as the prize...

So the race is on and the boys do their best to gain a head start at the welcoming party. Florian has his eye set on Sophie and they do in fact hit it off immediately. But Henk is keen on the attractive girl as well and manages to oust Florian with the help of the French girls' eagle-eyed teacher. The party is a fiasco, but the guys are not letting up: Florian takes aim at the shy Daphne and surprisingly manages to get intimate very quickly. But when she reveals herself to be a crazed sex-maniac right in front of his mother he quickly takes flight! The other guys are not exactly scoring points left and right either...

It's all up to Florian to save their beloved van by conquering Sophie. But after spending time with her, he finds himself falling heavily in love. Then, when she wants to sleep with him, he doesn't feel quite ready! His friends are furious - how can he betray them and lose their van? Just as he is about to explain, Sophie arrives and learns all about their tacky bet. Deeply hurt, she rejects Florian.

Now Florian will have to fight for her love - and he can only do it with a little help from his friends...

French Kissing

Romantic Comedy

Movie, 1 x 90'

Directed by Konrad Sattler

Starring Bruno Bruni, Josefine Preuß, Otto Birnbaum, Daniel Zillmann

Produced by UFA Fernsehproduktion GmbH for ProSieben in association with SevenOne International