The Collapse

The Collapse

Andrea is a committed and successful attorney. Her relationship with her father Matthias has always been difficult, which is why she is astonished when her father's housekeeper Charlotte calls her with tragic news: the roof of an ice rink has collapsed! One man has died, a girl has been seriously injured and many other children have required medical care...

Having been the construction supervisor at the site, Matthias is charged with involuntary manslaughter. At first hesitant to go back to her hometown, Andrea decides to help her father and conduct her own investigation. However, on the very first evening she gets into an argument with her father after accusing him of getting the construction contract through bribery.

The next morning Andrea is shocked by the news that her father has shot himself.

In a suicide note, he states that he feels fully responsible for the horrible tragedy and can no longer live with the guilt. But no one who knew Matthias believes that he could ever have committed suicide. Determined to uncover the truth, Andrea intensely studies the complex case files...

Andrea soon learns that corruption is widespread among the local officials. Her investigation also uncovers the fact that faulty and dangerous repairs were knowingly carried out on the building. Her probing, though, has attracted unwanted interference - the Chief Police Inspector seems suspiciously eager to write off Matthias' death as a clear-cut suicide.

Dodging resistance from all sides, Andrea is on the verge of blowing the bribery scandal wide open. But she cannot yet know that the closer she comes to the truth, the more her very life is in danger...
