EarthQuest

EarthQuest delves into the full spectrum of life - foreign cultures, fascinating science, dangerous jobs, and everything in-between.

This magazine satisfies our curiosity surrounding life's unseen elements in a very entertaining yet informative way. From channel excavators in the big cities to industrial climbers working at dizzying heights, from steel workers tending to fiery 1500° C furnaces to fearless explosives experts, EarthQuest explores a wide range of thrilling and interesting occupations.

Glimpse behind the scenes of a climate-controlled wind tunnel testing train aerodynamics or the world's most colossal dam. Be fascinated by amazing machinery, the functioning of high-tech buildings and intricate manufacturing processes. EarthQuest also pays attention to the smaller, more common aspects of daily life - how is chocolate made, where do the oranges in the supermarket come from, and how do you create soap? EarthQuest gives you the answers.

When it comes to adventure, brace yourself for a thrilling ride: journey with spider experts into the dense and isolated jungles of Laos and go on patrol with the fearless diamond cops in South Africa... or even join an exhilarating expedition to the icy wastelands of the South Pole.

Let EarthQuest be your tour guide...
